

NEXT TUESDAY ELECTION DAY THROUGHOUT CO.

Five State Measures on Ballot; Special Bond Election in City; List Of Officers.

With the coming election but five days off, Tuesday, June 7, when the voters of this state, county and city will cast their ballots in a special election for five state measures, three of them proposed amendments to the state constitution; and one city issue, the proposition of issuing refunding bonds to take care of the delinquency in improvement bonds, considerable interest is being taken in the election by local voters.

The voters will be called upon to decide the fate of the state measures, such as the constitutional amendment creating a world war veteran's association fund, (commonly designated the Oregon soldier bonus bill); the constitutional amendment lengthening the duration of the state legislature and increasing the compensation of the members; the constitutional amendment enabling the governor to veto the emergency clause on legislative measures; the measure qualifying women to sit as jurors, which is but the revision of the jury law providing that women are qualified to sit on juries, and the marriage and license measure requiring both male and female applicants for marriage licenses be examined physically for hygienic purposes by competent physicians before receiving certificates or licenses to wed.

The two measures which are receiving the most attention locally are the soldier bonus bill and the local refunding bond issue. In the former, various organizations of both labor and business associations have been addressed by speakers from the American Legion who have outlined the position of the veteran's in this matter while in the local refunding bond issue, the question has been presented to the public by city officials and others who are interested in keeping the credit of the city unimpaired.

TULSA QUIET AFTER STORM

TULSA, Okla., June 2.—Tulsa resumed a normal atmosphere today, except for the presence of 500 national guardsmen sent here yesterday after the rioting between negroes and white men, including a night of incendiarism in which virtually the entire negro quarter was destroyed with a loss of about $1,500,000.

Estimates of the dead dwindled today. Nine white dead were identified and 15 dead negroes accounted for. The wounded are estimated at 240. Some still estimated the negro dead as high as 40. But casual search failed to disclose additional bodies or bones.

Many of the 5000 negroes under guard at the fair grounds had lost their entire possessions in the fire.

Jury Disagrees in Rodriguez Trial

No agreement was reached by the jury in the case of the State against Frank Rodriguez who was charged with issuing worthless checks, yesterday and late last night, after having deliberated part of the night and failing to agree, Judge Kuykendall called the jury in and discharged them.

Judge Kuykendall yesterday ordered the $40,000 damage case of Laura E. Madison against L. O. Mills, U. E. Reeder and B. T. McKimms discharged from the docket after the attorneys for both sides agreed to dismiss the case. This case was tried earlier in the winter before a jury and no verdict was rendered as they were unable to agree.

BONDS DO NOT INCREASE THE GENERAL TAX

It is greatly desired that the people of Klamath Falls will vote favorably on next Tuesday, June 7th, on the measure authorizing the city to issue bonds to the extent of $30,000 for the refunding of the bonds issued on paving units one, two and three. These issues matured on May 1, 1921, and next October paying bonds on unit four will mature. Already bonds to the extent of about $15,000 have been presented and turned back because of lack of funds.

This seriously affects the credit of this city. We will wish to issue bonds for other badly needed city improvements, any action of defaulting in payment, such as has already happened, hampers the city's plans very materially. The city must keep its credit good.

The adoption of this measure does not mean necessarily that the city will issue bonds to the full amount authorized. It will issue only sufficient to meet matured obligations. These bonds will be redeemed from the delinquent assessment. It is not intended to make levies on the property of the city as a whole to retire these bonds. The people as a whole will not be burdened with any additional taxes at all.

It is not intended to make any levies. It is the plan to collect the delinquent assessments, and with this money retire all bonds issued under this authorization. The reason for resort to this plan is because forced sales will not bring the money in quickly enough to meet the city's obligation.

Should the city advertise and sell the property now, doubtless the city would have to take over some of the lots, as the property owners haven't the money now to make payments. Then the property would be taken off the tax roll for one year, the original owners have one year in which to redeem and the only penalty the property owner would be subjected to would be the 6 per cent interest charge, a less rate than money can be borrowed for, but even if this measure should fail it should be borne in mind the bond holders now have a right of action against the city, as a whole for the collection of the money due on their bonds.

The authorization as contained in this measure is a matter of necessity, and if the people will understand clearly that no taxes will be imposed upon their property for the retiring of these bonds, it is inconceivable that they should turn the measure down next Tuesday.

The city is in the position of an endorser on a note. They have to pay, but the city looks to reimbursement from the property that has received the particular benefit.

There will be sufficient money coming in from the delinquent assessments to retire any and all bonds the city may issue under this authorization. By giving this authority to the city, the city will keep its credit good, and at the same time have a little extension of time in which to make the property owners make payment of their assessments.

Sugar Planter is Touring Klamath

A. F. Porter, interested in a sugar plantation near the city of Honolulu, Hawaii was an automobile tourist in the city this morning enroute to Crater Lake and other scenic spots of the county.

Mr. Porter stated that the pineapple and sugar crop would be very good in Hawaii this year. He added that the financial situation was very quiet and that all of the business interests were very much interested in the settlement of the Yap question with Japan.

The road question in this county was one that could bear much improvement especially if tourists were to be attracted here in large numbers. Mr. Porter stated in answer to a number of questions asked him during the brief stop he made here this morning.

PROGRAM FOR IRISH BENEFIT IS COMPLETE

The program arranged for the big benefit to be given for the relief of the Irish sufferers will be one of the finest of any entertainment given in this city. Each person participating, to use a stage expression, is "a top liner," and those who will be privileged to attend will remember the affair for many moons. The use of the word "privileged" is used advisedly, for already the advanced sale of tickets indicate that the house will be packed to the limit each night. And why shouldn't it be with such a program as this?

Dr. E. D. Johnson will be chairman of the entertainment committee and will preside each evening. "Irish Eyes," with Pauline Starke in the leading role as the fisherman's daughter.

A fifteen minutes talk by Rev. J. V. Molloy, on the reason for the entertainment.

"Ireland Must Be Heaven, For My Mother Came From There," Miss Dorothy Elliott.

Hawaiian Music and Singing, Clark and Bennett.

"Killarney," Dr. Mallett.

Ted White, "The blackfaced assassin of sorrow."

"A Playwright's Wrong," a Mack Sennett comedy, featuring Maude Wayne.

The picture, "Irish Eyes" is said to be one of the best Irish plays on the screen today. It has had remarkable success wherever shown and will undoubtedly be everything to be wished for by those going to the entertainment.

The talk by Father Molloy needs no comment. Those who have heard him know why he is recognized as one of the ablest speakers among the Catholic clergy of America. An intellectual giant, there is never a second's dullness when he talks, and as he is deeply interested in conditions now prevailing in Ireland anything he may have to say will be expressed so brilliantly as to be interesting from start to finish.

In Miss Dorothy Elliott Klamath Falls has a singer of remarkable talent. Few have had the pleasure of hearing her sing, but those who have will tell you that she possesses a voice of great possibilities. Her singing is so natural and her voice filled with so much melody, that she instantly wins the hearts of her audience.

Clark and Bennett, who appeared in vaudeville in the Star theatre for many nights, where they delighted large audiences, will play the Hawaiian music for which they are noted. So well do they give expression to the sweet paths that runs through the music of the people of the Pacific that their playing is not surpassed even by the most accomplished native musicians. In addition they will sing one or two songs.

The sweet tenor voice of Dr. Mallett is particularly suited to the Irish melody of "Killarney," and his appearance on the program is a distinct feature in itself.

Then comes "Ted" White, "the blackfaced assassin of sorrow." This is the first time in over two years that Mr. White has put on the cork and his act promises to be a scream. He will wear his famous patchwork silk suit, an outfit that is valued at several hundred dollars and which attracted such wide attention when he was traveling on the big circuits. Mr. White's ability as an entertainer is real and is backed by years of success before audiences in the big cities of the United States.

The evening's entertainment will be closed by a Mack Sennett comedy. There is to be no solicitation for funds. The show starts promptly at 7:30 and no one will be seated while any of the performers are on the stage.

Saturday evening there will be a complete change in the program, except for the pictures, which will be repeated. The program for Saturday afternoon there will be a children's matinee at which both pictures will be shown. The charge

New Month

Congressman H. J. Drane of Florida, isn't superstitious. He introduced a bill to add a thirteenth month to the calendar. He'd call it "Center" and have it come between June and July.

BURGLAR MAKES DOUBLE RAID

The Oxceto Welding Shop of Carl Schubert Jr., at 232 Main St., and the garage of the City Transfer company, at 234 Main street, were burglarized late Tuesday evening by a solitary burglar, who first gained entrance to the Oxceto shop by breaking out a window pane, crawling in and then, after securing a Oxweld Cutting torch, departed by the back door to the garage of the City Transfer, next door. He crashed in a wooden panel of the back door, lifted a latch and took a breast drill valued at $14. from that place.

The Oxweld cutting torch was valued at $106 by Mr. Schubert and is of the variety that will cut through any bank vault door in this part of the country in a very few minutes. The torch can cut any steel up to 20 inches in thickness and is a dangerous tool in the hands of a yegg man. The tool box of Ray Hunsaker in the City Transfer was tampered with but only the breast bit lying on top of it, as there was no room in the box for it. No money or other valuables were taken in either place. The police are at work on the case.

ARREST FOR ALL VIOLATORS

Officers of the police department have been instructed to arrest all violators of the motor vehicle act, who have had ample warning that the law must be obeyed. I expect this order to be carried out to the letter and without exception.

H. S. WILSON,
Chief of Police

In accordance with the foregoing final statement of Chief Wilson, enforcement of the state and city traffic regulations has started in earnest. Six arrests have been made for failing to display a rear light as follows: J. A. McCall, J. B. Lebeche, C. Kirk, A. E. Patterson, J. Lizotte and R. M. Smith.

Open muffler, lack of lights, speeding, running with one light, cutting corners and all other violations that come to the attention of the police will be followed by swift arrest, says the chief.

Residents and country visitors, The law will be enforced on city tourists and all others alike and the chief suggests that the best way for drivers to avoid the annoyance of arrest is to familiarize themselves with traffic regulations and abide by them.

Weather Probabilities

The barometric pressure, as recorded by the Cyclo Stormograph at Underwood's Pharmacy, has remained practically unchanged since last report, although the tendency is slightly downward. Indications favor a continuance of warm weather, with mild winds and increasing cloudiness.

Forecast for next 24 hours:
Generally fair, continued warm.

For this matinee for the children will be ten cents, adults 50 cents. The charge will be 50 cents.

GERMANS CLASH WITH FRENCH ARMY, SILESIA

French Troops Attack- ed by German Resi- dents; Poles Support French in Encounter.

OPPEL, Silesia, June 2.—French soldiers garrisoned at Beuthen, near the old Polish frontier, have been attacked by organized German inhabitants numbering three thousand. The German attack was well planned. Wires between French headquarters and the barracks were cut, sentries driven back and the headquarters detachment surrounded.

The French rushed tanks to the scene and Germans, armed with pistols, attempted to capture the machines but were driven into buildings, from the windows of which a hot fire was opened.

The tanks charged the buildings, firing volleys through the doors and windows. There were German casualties.

Polish insurgents aided the French when the Germans attacked the French. Germans and Poles engaged in a battle near Gross-Strehlitz, and the Germans forced the Polish insurgents to withdraw from strong positions.

Women are volunteering for service. Many are wearing men's clothes and driving wagons and automobiles.

Park Bridge to Island Building

A small force of workmen acting under the instruction of Capt. O. C. Applegate were at work today erecting the wooden bridge over to the island at the city park and at 2 o'clock had the caps set for the stringers across the 25-foot canal. Bridge and floor timbers were on the ground but most of the men secured by the chamber of commerce failed to put in an appearance.

The volunteers who gave their time to the erection of this bridge, the object that Capt. Applegate has so long desired, were, Capt. O. C. Applegate, C. E. Solomon, J. P. McCollum, Tom Telford, M. L. Miller, Bert Hall and the carpenter furnished by J. B. Chambers.

City water is now to be had on the grounds of the park as a force of workmen from the California-Oregon Power company repaired and installed new pipes from the main leading to the park.

First Car Over Sand Creek Hill

Robert E. Hunsaker reports that the roads on the west side of the Upper Klamath lake are in fine condition and that much travel is passing over them. As far as Rocky Point no fault can be found with the road at this time of the year but from that point to Ft. Klamath, conditions are not so good owing to recent rains.

Ed Rouch, who lives at Crescent, yesterday made the trip to Sand Creek over Ft. Klamath hill and is reported to be the first man this season to traverse this trip in a car.

No Difference in Postal Business

Postal receipts and general work about the Klamath Falls postoffice have not declined with all the talk about "hard times." Postmaster W. A. Delzell stated today, and there is little or no difference today compared with a year ago.

The postal barometer will be set to work next month for a comparison when the fruit shipments begin to come into the city from the Rogue River valley. It is at this time that the local office receipts are annually swelled.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

A marriage license was issued this forenoon to Robert Hisset and Miss Gladys Elinor Kinsey of this city.
